

Weeping Willow (blends and varietals)

An old Weeping Willow is found at the end of our vineyards, on the banks of a small river. It is our long-served tradition that at the end of the harvest the first bottles of wine are opened underneath its branches; and, enjoyed by those that toiled under the summer sun to pick all the grapes.

The perfect reward for many days of hard work.

